

Reading-Writing Connection Integrated Writing Portal

Writing Prompt

After completing each reading selection, students are presented with a writing prompt that links information from the selection with the student's own knowledge base. Prompts are either expository, narrative, or evidence based. Students who are given an opportunity to share what they've learned through writing, learn to read with the purpose of gaining knowledge.

Crafting a Response

Students use the integrated writing portal to craft responses to the writing prompts. Students are provided with the opportunity to reread the selection closely and critically to find the evidence, ideas, and details needed to support their writing. Students submit their work to their teacher and can view the comments tab to see the teacher's response.

Teacher's View

Teachers can access students' writing anytime from within the teacher dashboard. From the dashboard a teacher can see students' recent edits to their work, graded assignments, and assignments that have been submitted for review. Teachers can click on any assignment to review a student's writing.

Comments & Edits

Once a teacher opens a student's writing assignment, the teacher can review the reading selection and prompt, read and provide comments directly to the students. Electronic comment threads between teacher and student help students learn how to incorporate feedback into their writing.